Public transport

The U-7 line runs every 5-10 minutes.

You can check the timetable here: sbahn.berlin or bvg.de. The U+S-Bahn runs quite reliable. Bus and tram services are more likely to be cancelled. There is always construction work going on and sections may be closed.

Taxi numbers e.g.: Funk Taxi Berlin (030) 26 10 26, Taxi Berlin (030) 20 20 20.

Overnight stays

Accommodation can be found from inexpensive to high-priced. As Berlin has to accommodate many tourists, it is advisable to book as early as possible. On the other hand, if you book before arrival, you can also get a good deal on a hotel.

Within walking distance, to the north, is the gay party mile (around Motzstr.). There are a few hotels. It might be rather noisy at night.

Here are some internet addresses:

www.berlin.de/tourismus/unterkunft, tripadvisor.de, agoda.com, booking.com, hrs.de, momondo.de, preiswert-uebernachten.de, ebab.com/Europe/Germany/Berlin (you certainly don't have to be gay or lesbian yourself), stmichaels-heim.de/ or even airbnb.de. The number of Airbnb offers has decreased, because Berlin has a pronounced housing shortage. Professional, private rentals must be registered, so that living space is not rented out commercially, permanently as holiday homes. Another option is ebaykleinanzeigen.de with the search Overnight accommodation "Übernachten" and Berlin.

Eating and drinking

There are many cafés and restaurants in the vicinity.

The nearest drinks market is in Akazienstr.. A small supermarket at the end of Eisenacher Str., just before the Barbarossaplatz
