

Meeting Karl Renz

28th, 29th and 30th May 2010

"Realization means that consciousness, which was once identified with an object, becomes infinite; it becomes conscious about being consciousness."

"As long as this "I"-thought appears to be real - which means separation, two-ness, and suffering - the desire for unity appears, along with the longing for a way out and for an end to suffering."
